Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 15 and 18-27 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
3. With regard to independent claim 18 and its' respective dependents, the prior art of record fails to disclose all of the limitations of independent claim 18. Notably, the prior art of record describes management software systems for management of storage area networks (Brown et al., US 6,148,414), and further discloses systems for management of storage resources in a storage area network (Nolan et al., US 6,640,278) and even further discloses systems for serverless backup on a storage area network (Pathlight & Computer Associates, "Deliver server-free backup"). However, the prior art of record does not disclose a system as claimed, and as enabled by the specification, where the management software for the storage area network realizes acquisition of statistical information of resources of logical volumes, manages the volumes in accordance with the statistical information including usage of logical devices composing the logical volumes, predicts future usage of the logical devices based on the usage, and allocating logical devices in response to a command based on the future usage prediction.
4. With regard to independent claim 23 and its' respective dependents, the prior art of record fails to disclose all of the limitations of independent claim 23. Notably, the prior art of record describes management software systems for management of storage area networks (Brown et al., US 6,148,414), and further discloses systems for management of storage resources in a storage area network (Nolan et al., US 6,640,278) and even further discloses systems for serverless backup on a storage area network (Pathlight & Computer Associates, "Deliver server-free backup"). However, the prior art of record does not disclose a system as claimed, and as enabled by the specification, where the management software for the storage area network manages volumes in the storage area network in accordance with usage information obtained from disk drives about logical devices composing logical volumes in the storage area network, predicts future usage of the logical devices based on the usage information, and allocating logical devices in response to a command based on the future usage prediction.

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
